

Proof Positive Contact Center Industry Experience

SHL's assessment content has repeatedly demonstrated its ability to predict performance. SHL's award-winning Contact Center Solution scientifically measures the effect improved hiring has on key performance indicators such as productivity, attendance, turnover, customer satisfaction and sales. In fact, SHL has demonstrated direct ROI for our clients' talent initiatives, showing strong and compelling business results such as:

Agents who earned higher scores on a call center retention predictor were 23% less likely to leave the job in the first two months.

- "Super Agents" show 35% improvement in average handle times and 200% higher quality
- An 11% increase in average number of calls handled picked up 18 more productive days per employee per year
- High-scoring collections agents average $5,000 more a month than low scoring agents.

Make the Human Connection

With a vast assessment catalog, decades of ongoing research, and the latest technology in testing, SHL's solutions accurately measure critical competencies at every level within an organization. To understand the landscape of your current workforce, the results from SHL's solutions can be used to
