

Generation Z

Thinking Style

They apply their view of the world to solving strategic problems

Behavioral Style

They are active, thorough, and strategic. They will question the status quo and need support managing set backs

Solving Challenges

They offer strength for leading change and will thrive if offered meaningful structure and support

There are so many ways that these young aspiring leaders can strengthen your business, but do you have the right people strategy to truly attract and harness the potential that Gen Z has to offer?

Learn more shl.com/aspiring-leaders

SHL.